The report that Pennsylvania had acquired control of Iteading lacked official confirmation, but it resulted in big buying and a strong advance in Pennsylvania. New York Central also advanced on the theory that all the big trunk line systems would be helped by the Reading going under control of a big system like Fennsylvania.

Morgan inspiration was the source of the strength of United States Steel issues, and some of the orders filled today were cabled from London.

Profit-takers had no trouble in getting out of some of the issues that have been advanced without causing any noteworthy reaction.
